Second, It is free from all objectionable and unpleasant smells, and burns with a clear white brilliant flame. We cordially solicit the public and FAMILIES to give this Oil a trial, and once tried, we feel confident it will gain a preference over all other Oil for economy as well as its superior burning qualities.
In order to protect ourselves against Counterfeits we have placed a brand on each can and case, which will be known as

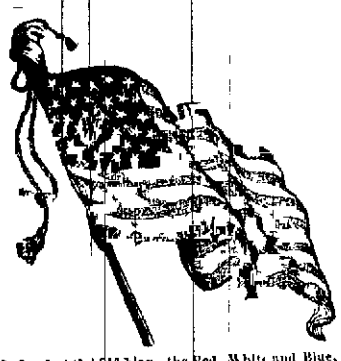
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and free
Arise and defend it! ye sons of freedom
Whose blood bought the banner your sires gave to you

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 3, 186..

The Humbug Salmon River Mines

We find the following remarkable production in the Sacramento Union of the 2d inst., which will doubtless surprise our readers in this section, as no such production has ever come to light in this locality and we have doubts if it ever did in any other

After publishing what purports to be the experience of one J S Philipps, who says he has seen "the elephant" to his satisfaction but who gives a very erroneous, not to say lying account of the Salmon River mines—the Union says

In connection with the above we give the following testimony on the subject, being a statement in the Portland News (extra) signed by parties who have been to Salmon river, whose names are Enoch Staay, James Campbell, Enrich Swantz and William Conrad.

The undersigned, having the welfare of California miners at heart, do not hesitate to proclaim to them, and loudly too that from sad experience, we pronounce the Salmon river excitement, gotten up by the express and steamship monopolies, to be one of the greatest outrages on humanity perpetrated since the days of 'Gold Hill' and 'Kern River,' and it is time, and we consider it our duty, so far as lays in our power, to put a stop to the misery and destitution now being experienced by many who could not let well enough alone in the good old Eureka State

We have seen it all We have seen men, and good men, too, dying by the dozen with scurvy, some living on bread stuff and in a strait to get it at that Others with their feet and limbs frozen so that amputation was rendered necessary, and others compelled to divide their provisions or suffer the consequences.

The mines, so far as discovered, will not cover an area of over two miles, and notwithstanding the country has been well prospected for miles, as yet there has not been anything discovered of account So far as yet learned of the discoveries made, the miners say it is but a swag in the mountain and the lead only two feet wide in some places and in others not more than six inches This is not very encouraging, but nevertheless true, and the exorbitant prices exacted for necessaries of life cannot be repaid We have seen men on our travels who have been some hundred miles further up than we went who say they have not found prospects sufficient to pay them for working the claims and had it not been for the prospect found in their pockets they would have been in bad luck

That the public may form some idea of the amount put into the coffers of the monopolies we will say that from San Francisco to Portland $40 is charged in the cabin and $20 in the hog-pen, from Portland to the Dalles $8 portage, $1, from the Dalles to Lewiston $47; and from Lewiston to Florence City $25; and the balance you have must go for grub. Anything over one parcel of blankets goes as freight, and at the moderate sum of $120 per ton

Oh, we've been up to Salmon river and we have got to say,
And had our friends not known it we'd sworn we'd never went

So if you please not to take our advice, go and see for yourselves and be convinced

The announcement of the taking of an extract from the "Portland News, (extra)" is a matter of some surprise to us as we have had no knowledge of such a newspaper having been issued in this city for a long time There was such a paper published here about 18 months or two years ago, but it cannot be possible that the Union has picked up an old copy of that journal in which the above extract had appeared, for such a place as Salmon river was not known at that time Who this Enoch Staay and his fellow victims are is also a mystery to us, but it is fair to presume that they too, have long since passed off the stage of action, the same as the Portland News But, perhaps, somebody has been practising a "hoax" on the Union, and that those poor unfortunate individuals who have "been to Salmon and seen it all" are mere "men of straw," manufactured for the occasion, just to give our California contemporaries a chance to get up a "sensation item" for the benefit of some of their patrons who are likely to leave without settling up with the printer However, we will again remind our California friends that it is now too late to call Salmon river "a humbug" the evidence to the contrary has been too frequently demonstrated by facts and figures showing the amounts of dust which are brought down from that locality by every steamer Such stories as the above won't win

The steamer Orizaba arrived at San Francisco on the 20th with 1,150 passengers, a great number of whom are en route for Carriboo

Three ships arrived at San Francisco on the 25th and 26th, from Hongkong, bringing nearly 1,000 Chinese.

VICTORY IS OURS!

A Good Day's Work!

MULTNOMAH ALL RIGHT!

The Whole Union Ticket elected by an Overwhelming Majority!

"The Union shall be Preserved!"

We rejoice to record the fact that the Union ticket has been elected by an overwhelming majority without doubt Multnomah county has given a clear majority of at least four hundred for the glorious cause of the Union and the enforcement of the laws—for sustaining the Administration in its efforts to suppress treason and crush rebellion Oregon has undoubtedly proven herself sound and true patriotic and loyal to the Government Rejoice, ye sons of freedom Again we say rejoice. Let the heavens resound with praises and let the whole host of valiant soldiers who are now fighting the battles of their country know that the people of Oregon sympathize with and for them, that they have encouragement and our support in the great struggle for our National supremacy, honor and reputation Who will not rejoice? Who cannot feel proud of our noble little State in thus speaking with such a decided voice in favor of the right cause? Let the imps of Secession and sympathizers of treason hide their defotmed heads in everlasting shame and disgrace Let the so-called Union Democracy feel the full force and weight of an indignant popular condemnation and utter contempt for their false professions and vain endeavors to deceive the people. Run and hide, ye diminutive cornets disunion Depart from among us, ye workers of iniquity ye false professors of loyalty and true devotion to your country The day of your judgment has come, the sentence has been pronounced against you, and you must take up your line of march and stop not, neither tarry by the way until ye reach the farthest point 'up Salt River' Mark the prediction—Three weeks from this time Jeff. Davis couldn't find enough such self styled Unionists in Oregon to form a corporal's guard You are "done for," you are "played out," you are "gone up the flume," you are "beat," "busted" and "smashed"—in a word, you are "dead and damned," and there's no help for you We can't pity you—you have deserved your fate, and have received a just reward

THE PORTLAND SOAP WORKS. — We visited, yesterday afternoon, the soap manufactory of Messrs. W. B. Mead & Co., on Front street, opposite Mansfield's auction store, and was pleased to find that these gentlemen are engaged in a commendable enterprise that should be patronized and encouraged by every citizen in Oregon. Merchants, ships, hotels, laundries, and particularly the farmers should patronize these gentlemen by all means and above all foreign competition. We are satisfied, not only from an inspection, but from actually testing their soap, that it is an "A No. 1" article, and we are pleased that our merchants have not patronized this establishment more than they have. We believe in patronizing home industry and home manufactories, as by this there is kept up a more lasting and sure business between all parties. If our merchants would patronize this establishment, Messrs. Mead & Co. could and would purchase their material from the farmers and producers, and these latter class could and would be better able to patronize the merchants in return; thus keeping the trade at home, the money at home, and the labor at home. There is no country more prosperous, happy and free than the one in which its citizens work to each other's advantage; where they encourage each other; where they buy and sell to each other, every article that can be produced or manufactured among them. There evidently has been a prejudice against the soap manufactured by this establishment, probably just because it was "Portland soap," and the first article manufactured not being of a superior quality, most people seem to think that all the soap now manufactured by these gentlemen as of the same quality, but it must be remembered that there is entirely different men engaged in this enterprise to those who first started it, and that the soap now manufactured is a far superior article. But suppose you do not find this soap to be just exactly as good in every respect as that brought from a foreign market, is that discourage you from patronizing home enterprise? By no means. Keep up the patronage and give encouragement, and in time for it, you will soon find that just as good soap can be made in Portland as in Boston or any other locality, and we believe a much better article than is generally found with in the market. Go and try this soap and convince yourselves.

VOLUNTEERS.—Four volunteers, who had served in one of the Oregon cavalry companies now stationed at Vancouver, presented themselves at the polls in North Portland, on that yesterday, and demanded the privilege of voting. Being challenged, considerable discussion arose upon the subject, which was finally settled by taking their votes under protest; two of the Judges deciding against, and one in favor of admitting them to vote. We do not profess to understand the Constitutional requirements in this particular, but believe that their votes should have been taken without any hesitancy.

A LIVELY ESTABLISHMENT.—We visited the establishment yesterday and can truly say that the gentlemanly proprietor, Mr. C. Haas, is now fully prepared to furnish all and everything in his line of business at reasonable rates. We learn that he has purchased the entire interest from the Gas Company of fitting up the gas works for the city, and is therefore the sole proprietor of the privileges. His advertisement will be found in another column.

RAINY DAY.—Yesterday was a rainy day, which perhaps accounts for the disappearance of the Secesh tickets at the polls. They must have melted like other soft substances would have done when exposed to the rain and mist. But the Union ticket, being made of a different substance, was not affected.

THE RIVER.—The Willamette river is still rising, as is also the Columbia, so we learn. Considerable damage, the extent of which, to date, we have not yet learned, has been done to the farms and orchards on the Columbia river bottoms, below Vancouver.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.—Late Portland papers announce the fact that the above amount of treasure arrived in that city a short time since from the Salmon river mines, but they forgot to state that numbers of "dead broke" and disheartened adventurers were leaving every day and leaving the country in disgust.—Victoria Press.

Will you be kind enough to inform us, Mr. Press, how many "dead broke" adventurers daily return to your city from the Carriboo and other localities in British Columbia. Now, we have closely examined your issues of the last week or two, and we can't find the item of a single dollar having been brought down from those mines. How is this? what becomes of all the "dust" you have been blowing about so much? How goes on the sale of Vancouver? Have you found it a profitable investment? Don't all of you speak at once.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already established in a position which places it, as well as the proprietor, far above the associations of every illicit professional medium. In the schools of Europe the highest honors and offices are awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with other men of high position in the profession, a social rank corresponding. Dr. Czapkay has had the advantage of the most eminent masters of science. But up and beyond the facilities afforded him in the countries which proved to him the Philadelphia College of Medicine conferred on him with its Diploma, as a distinguished graduate, a certificate, declaring that he had passed a satisfactory examination, published as a subject of the University of Pesth, and the Royal surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army. For many extended labors Dr. L. J. Czapkay has built his reputation as a physician to the cure of chronic and private diseases; and while he has become one of an expert that he is now recognized as the leader in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography will publish the true matter of interest to their readers in the most complete journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento st. cut, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask for to other attention of our readers to the numerous certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not residing to have home orders should, on receipt of $10 in the letter to us, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. jun6dwly

The Farmer's Courtship.

(Concluded)

With an abrupt and somewhat chilling descent to the commonplaces of life Letty put her tray on the table, brushed the curls from her forehead, and went to answer the summons

"Good evening, Miss Martin," said a pleasant, manly voice that vibrated familiarly on Letty's ear "Is your uncle at home this evening?"

"No, sir; he and aunt are both out but I am expecting them every moment, will you come in sir?"

"Thank you," and he crossed the threshold to the fire lighted, comfortable kitchen She gave him a chair by the fire and took one for herself opposite, resumed her chopping

"Are you going back to the city this winter?" he asked

"No, sir, uncle and aunt will not consent to give me up to the city this winter"

"Do you find it easy to reconcile yourself to the quiet monotony of a winter in the country, after the gaieties of the season in P?"

Comparatively,' she replied, evasively, and stealing a covert glance at him, she saw that his eyes were reading her face She blushed under his searching gaze, and put down her tray to stir the fire

"Country life has the preference with you?" she said, as he assisted her to place a log on the fire

"Yes, Miss Martin," he replied, a humorous smile dilating his eyes and parting his beardless lips. "You never spoke a truer word, I'll venture to assert, farming has a charm for me that no other trade nor profession can counterbalance."

"Do you ever find it dull?" she asked

"Not while at work, but in these long winter evenings if our society here could be a little improved, and we could have the advantage of social meetings for intelligent conversation, library lectures, debates, et cetera, the sunny side of a farmer's life would be without its corresponding shadow."

The earnestness of his voice caused her to raise her eyes to his face, and the fascination of his glance kept them there for a moment

When Mr. and Mrs Martin came in, her uncle smiled rather roguishly to find Letty entertained by Mr Lee, who soon concluded his business with Mr. Martin, after which he actually found voice to say good evening to Miss Letty, with, as Aunt Grap would say, great empressement.

After this Mr Lee had so many errands at Mr Martin's that he spent two or three evenings out of a week with them Letty could not deny herself that she was interested in him She looked for his coming with an eagerness and pleasure she sought to conceal Thus the winter went by, and one sunny spring morning Mr Lee, who, by the way, was very forgetful or thoughtless, for it was Monday morning, knocked at Mr. Martin's door He was shown into the sitting room, and Letty, at Aunt Nabby's request, dried her hands of the soap suds, took off her checked apron, and with the well bred ease of a true lady left the washtub to entertain him

Her first glance at him as she entered his presence told her that he had arrived at a decision in his mind, and had come that morning for a purpose That purpose was soon revealed to her.

After a few commonplace remarks, he came to her side and said abruptly, but with an earnestness that made her tremble and redden under his ardent gaze—"Letty, would you be a farmer's wife?"

She looked distressed, and attempted to withdraw her hand from his Be frank with me, Letty; do not keep me in pain—you cannot in cruel—suspense a moment, say if you cannot return the love that out of all the world was kindled for you alone"

"James," she said softly, and with an accent of tenderness that brought both her hands into his in an instant, "I love you well enough to be your wife, but I cannot be a farmers wife"

"Good-by, then," and his voice was like an iceberg that might have contained a chilled heart, and his face was like the face of the dead, and he staggered toward the door

She held out her hands to him, and said in a pleading voice, between a smile and a tear—"James, can you give me up so easily?"

He looked at her—hesitated a moment—then with a radiant face went back and knelt before her

"Letty, my promised bride, where shall I take you to?"

"To your farm," she replied with arch sweetness.

"Your unselfish love that would sacrifice all for me, shall not be unequalled in generosity by mine!"

There was a hurried kiss, for just then Uncle Martin came blundering into the room. He could not, however, as easily interrupt the love as the lovers, and Letty or James were scarcely more happy than good Uncle Martin became when he learned the pleasure of his favorite

Mrs James Lee made a famous farmer's wife, bringing a grace and refinement into all her household duties, that lent an added charm to the cottage farm-house

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in the first stages of secret disease—Self Abuse Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages Stricture, Gleet (clap) Hot Drops, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs Cancer, Dropsy Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all Diseases arising from a disordered state of the sexual organs—such as Nervous trembling Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, Mental Weakness Dimness of Vision with pimples upon the face Pains in the Back and Head Female Irregularities and all impediments or discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after he (the doctor) has failed the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their remedies to the contrary. The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or any mineral. During fifteen years of practice in the Atlantic States and California, Dr. C. has cured thousands upon thousands who in the last stages of the above horrible diseases had been given up by the faculty to die, after which we have not failed in a single instance to do all we had promised. We have a speedy and permanent cure for the most inveterate cases of Syphilis, and many other diseases which destroy the constitution and render marriage a curse instead of a blessing. Persons who have injured themselves by the use of mercury or by improper treatment, will find in Dr. C. a friend who will not only faithfully cure them, but restore the constitution to its natural vigor. Persons who have been given up by other physicians as incurable, can rely upon a perfect cure by calling upon Dr. C. Those who cannot call upon the Doctor, can write him a full description of their case, and receive his medicines by return of express, with full directions how to use them. Persons writing should be particular in giving their full address, and write as plainly as possible. Medicines sent to all parts of the United States, Mexico, and South America, by express, with full directions how to use them. Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificate of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having received their former health and vigor by the unrivalled skill and remedies of Dr. CZAPKAY, and their statement are published in a Spanish Paper. The doctor is known to have extensively practiced in Mexico, and we commend the following to the attention of such of our readers as may be afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned:

CERTIFICATE—The undersigned, deeply sensible of the benefit which he has received from the skill of Dr. L. J. Czapkay, and wishing to make known to the afflicted where a permanent cure can be obtained, and their sufferings may be relieved, feels it his duty to the afflicted to express his sincere gratitude to Dr. Czapkay for the extraordinary skill he has displayed in the treatment of his disease, and the kindness and attention he has shown him during the distressing symptoms incident to the worst forms of Syphilis. He also feels it his duty to say that he has found unalloyed pleasure in the performance of the above duty, having believed the disease incurable, and that after a few weeks and several applications of the remedies, I found myself entirely cured. I have since had the most satisfactory proof that instead of relieving the symptoms for a short time, to again appear in their original violence, the cure is permanent, and that my health is now as good as it ever was. Having suffered for many years, and been under the treatment of many physicians, who pronounced my disease incurable, and having tried many remedies, which proved of little or no benefit, I am induced to make this statement, hoping that it may be the means of leading others who are afflicted with the same disease to apply to Dr. Czapkay, who alone has the skill to cure them.

I have also been afflicted with a severe pain in the side, which I had been told was the effect of the Mercury I had taken for the Syphilis, but which Dr. Czapkay has entirely relieved by the use of his Sarsaparilla, and I feel myself a new man. I have also been afflicted with Piles, which Dr. Czapkay has entirely relieved by the use of his Ointment. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Czapkay to all who are afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in this certificate, as I believe him to be a gentleman of honor and skill in his profession.
